

Have You Heard About Turning All Clocks Ahead?

WELL, it has been done in a number of European countries, and in some cities in America. Boston is considering the matter, led by the Chamber of Commerce; and Barre will not be an hour behind the times if the change spells PROGRESS. Better keep an eye on the project, as it may interest you keenly in a personal way some morning.

Prices of Linoleums Are Bound to Go Forward

We are doing everything in our power to keep prices where they are, but a letter such as the following, from a leading maker of linoleums, shows which way the trade winds are blowing:

"We are more than oversold on this class of goods, and believe August prices are as low as they can be, with the strong probability that during the spring, in fact after November 1 of this year, prices will be much higher."

LINOLEUM is easy to keep clean, does not splinter, is soft to the tread and is an ideal floor-covering. Examples:

Imported Inlaid Linoleums—With patterns running through to the back, of the famous "Stained" and "Greenwich" makes, including parquetry, tile, floral and geometric effects, for the kitchen, pantry, laundry and back halls. Per yard, $1.10 to $1.75

Printed Linoleums—A most desirable selection of choice designs from all the leading American manufacturers at reasonable prices. Per yard, $50 to 75c

Cork Carpet—Resilient, sanitary and durable; especially adapted for use in the nursery at home, as well as hospitals and libraries, where its noise-subsiding properties are fully appreciated. Per yard, $1.50 to $1.65
